About me

I'm a striker who plays with intensity, intelligence, and a team-first mindset. My role is to score, but I believe that individual brilliance only shines when it's built on collective effort. I'm always looking to link up with teammates, press from the front, and create space with smart movement. My goal is to express my strengths within the flow of the team, contribute consistently, and grow into a forward who delivers in key moments—both on and off the ball.
